This course is designed to provide certified state and local law enforcement tactical commanders with the knowledge, skills, and abilities to plan tactical missions for incidents involving WMD.

This course will provide competency in the following areas:

- Trends in WMD terrorism
- Threats associated with various WMD materials
- Available technology for monitoring and detection of WMD materials
- Regulatory and safety requirements regarding the use of Personal Protective
- Equipment (PPE), including selection and limitations
- Fundamentals of and planning for decontamination operations in accordance with regulatory requirements
- Tactical operations planning and considerations involving WMD materials
- Field expedient WMD disruption techniques
- Unique medical and training requirements associated with WMD tactical operations teams.

This course is designed to address technical aspects associated with planning a tactical law enforcement response to a WMD incident. As such, it provides detailed technical information to include practical exercises designed to cause tactical commanders to plan for effective, safe tactical operations in WMD environments. The course consists of eleven modules taught through classroom sessions and comprehensive practical exercises.
